

Danez M. Marrable began her first year as Academic Counselor for the University of Georgia's Athletic Association last summer. In her role she serves as the head academic counselor for the Bulldog men's basketball and softball teams. Danez arrived at Georgia after three years at Winthrop University in Rock Hill, S.C. In the last year there she was the school's Director of Academic and Student-Athlete Services. She oversaw all aspects of the Eagles' student-athlete services, as well as their academic support programs. In that year the student-athletes posted their highest-ever cumulative GPA. For her first two years at Winthrop, she served as Athletics Academic Coordinator. Her duties included advising student-athletes, arranging tutoring programs and serving as a liaison between faculty and the Eagles' athletic department.

Danez is a 1998 graduate of Ohio University in Athens, Ohio, where she earned her bachelor's degree in Business Administration. A year later she earned her master's degree in Physical Education. Marrable went on to earn a J.D. degree from the Marquette University Law School in 2003 and was sworn in to the State Bar of Wisconsin in October of 2004.

She is in her third year as an active member of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics and has presented at the national and regional conferences. She is also a 2006 PDI graduate.
